

Joseph Resnick joined Premier Community HealthCare Group, Inc. as the Chief Executive Officer in 2014. Resnick is a board-certified healthcare executive and has over 30 years of health experience in both the hospital and private practice settings. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Tampa and a Master of Healthcare Administration through the University of South Florida's College of Public Health. Resnick is an intrinsically motivated healthcare executive with a proven record of leadership, performance improvement, advocacy and healthcare business operations.

As the CEO of Premier Community HealthCare, Resnick is the visionary focused growing the organization to best meet community needs. He strives to make an impact by improving operations, with an emphasis on the patient experience and strengthening the health center workforce. He is also dedicated to improving the health center business model which includes communicating the health center's strategic plan to the community-at-large and engaging community supporters. Resnick has a wealth of knowledge working in various health care environments and has a strong commitment to creating cohesive and successful staff teams. He excels at bridging the gap between clinical and administration by promoting he has an open-door and by emphasizing transparency in his communication strategies. At Premier Community HealthCare, Resnick is responsible for driving the vision and overall leadership, which consists of just over 315 highly qualified employees who care for more than 38,000 patients through 126,000 encounters in multiple clinics located throughout Pasco and Hernando Counties in Florida. He is a compassionate and mission driven individual committed to the Patient Centered Medical Home model.

A native of a small town 45 minutes south of Houston, Texas, Resnick and his wife (Erika) have made the Tampa Bay area their home and enjoy spending time with their adult children, Max, Josh, Jacob, daughter, Hannah, and fur babies, Chester and Lilly. He enjoys an active lifestyle which includes traveling, musical festivals, sporting events, and outdoor adventures.

Education

- Master of Healthcare Administration
University of South Florida
College of Public Health
Tampa, FL
- Bachelor of Science, Business Administration
University of Tampa
Tampa, FL

Professional Affiliations/Memberships

- American College of Healthcare Executives
- Legislative and Executive Committee, FL Association of Community Health Centers (FACHC)
- Board Member, Alliance of Substance Abuse Prevention, Pasco County, FL
- Board Member of Health Choice Network
- Member of the Finance Committee of Health Choice Network